Ruling Deities of Dwadashamsha

There are 4 non planetary lords of each dwadeshamsa. These are :

- Ganesh : Lord of 1st, 5th and 9th Dwadashamsha

Ganesh is destroyer of all obstacles which can be in your material or spiritual path. This division indicates divine protection to the native provided by parents.

- Ashwini Kumar : Lord of 2nd, 6th and 10th Dwadashamsha.

Ashwini are divine healers and bless with good health care. These parents are very caring nature. The planets in this division bestow the caring nature to parents.

- Yama : Lord of 3rd, 7th and 11th Dwadashamsha

Yama is the lord of death. He is disciplined, his rules are rigid and not flexible at all. The planets in this division show very disciplined parents.

- Ahi or Sarp : Lord of 4th, 8th and 12th Dwadashamsha

Ahir or Sarp is the serpent. It is resting place for lord Vishnu. The snake has venom and imparts it to the planet placed in this division.

For any sign these deities repeat 3 times. First dwadashamsha is ruled by Ganesh, second by Ashwini, third by Yama, fourth by Sarp and then 5th again by Ganesh and so on.

Drekkana and Dwadashamsha

- Each drekkana of a sign has 4 dwadashamsha. Therefore one drekkana of a sign contains four division ruled by all four deities.
- In D3 chapter we studied that Drekkana are classified as Narad, Agastya and Durvasa.
- So we can have combination of Drekkana deity and dwadashamsha deity to closely identify the planet.
- Any planet in Narada /Ganesh should be auspicious.
- A planet in Agastya/Yama should be rigid.
- A planet in durvasa/sarpa is full of vengeance.

One may also combine the deities of navamsa – devta, manushya and rakshas. This gives fairly good idea of the condition and nature of any planet.

Analyzing D12 chart.

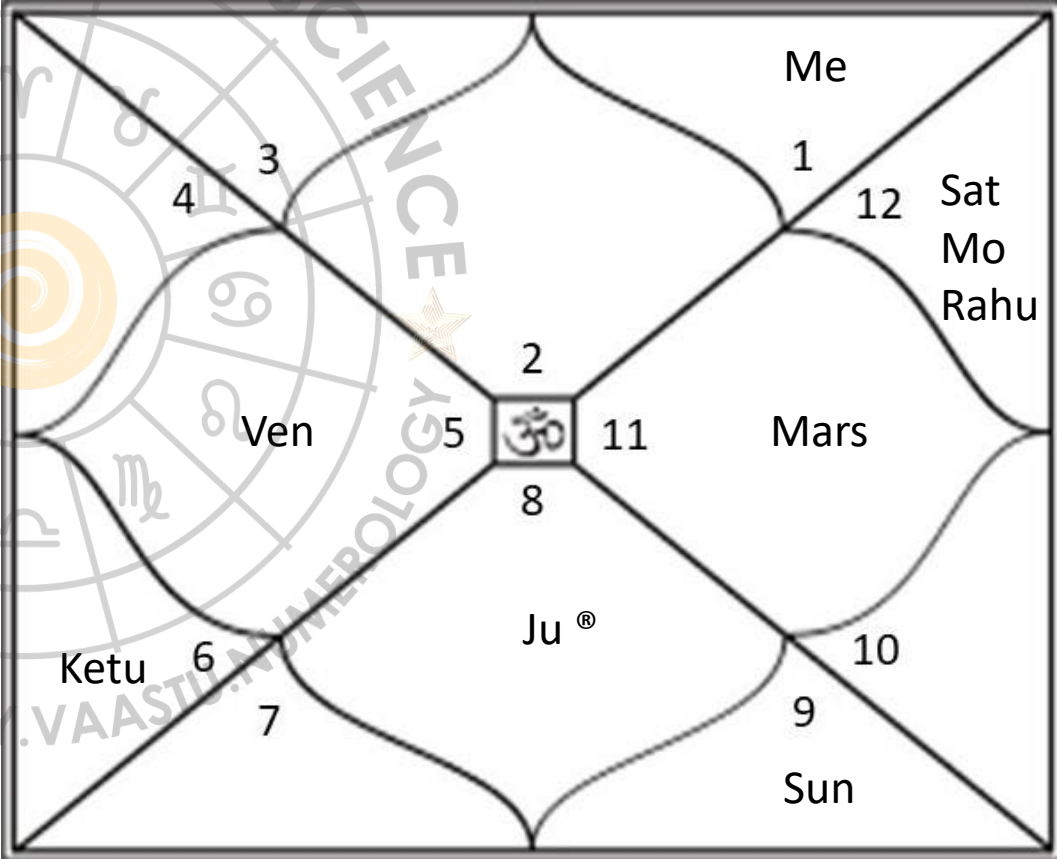

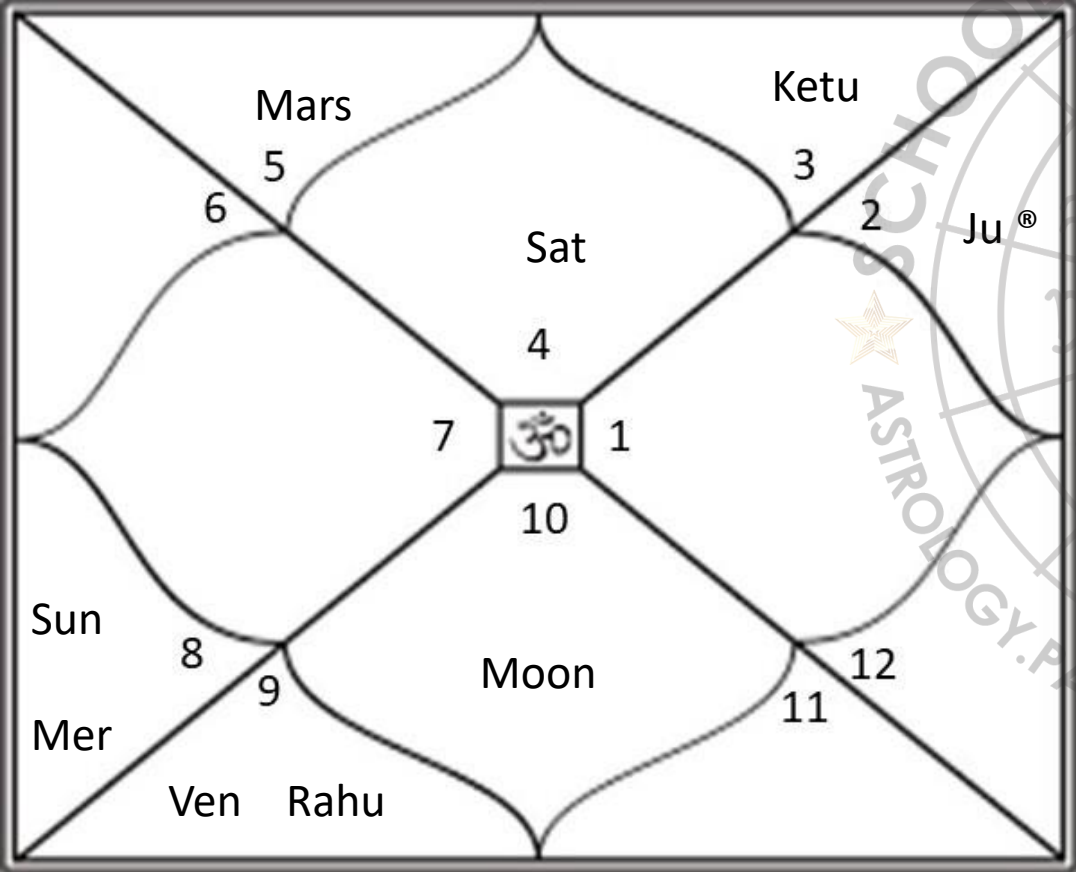

1. Sun is the significator of father and Moon is of mother.
2. Ninth house is the lagna of father and fourth house is lagna of mother. For father maraka houses are 10th, 3rd and the house of longevity is 4th house of D12. The 5th and 10th house are maraka for mother and the 11th is the house of longevity.
3. See the ruling deities of Sun and Moon in the drekkana, navamsa and dwadashamsha to assess the nature of parents towards the native.
4. Moon afflicted shows pain to mother; afflicted Sun shows pain to father.
5. Mercury / Ketu is seen for maternal lineage and Jupiter / Rahu is seen for paternal lineage.
6. Jupiter, 5th house and 5th lord are purva punya and show whether the person can be a parent.
7. Lagna of Dwadashamsha represents parents. Fifth house therefore represent native. In the astrological scheme the lords of trine are friends to each other. Thus to see the mutual relation of parents and the native, we can check the placement of these two lords from each other.
8. Association of the trines with the 11th and 2nd house / lords indicates wealthy parents.
9. Planets in Yama or Sarpa dwadashamsha is not a good position and does harm to the significations of the planet. Such a planet causes heavy afflictions to the planet it associates by conjunction or aspect.
